ΙΝΣΤΙΤΟΥΤΟ ΤΗΣ ΔΑΝΙΑΣ ΣΤΗΝ ΑΘΗΝΑ

The Danish Institute at Athens and the Danish Embassy are pleased to invite you to the second in our series of screenings of films from The Danish Film Institute

Thursday 28 March at 19.00
Winter Brothers* by Hlynur Pálmason

“An isolated Danish limestone plant provides a surreally bleached-out backdrop for a strange, exceptionally crafted 'lack-of-love' story.

First there is the darkness of a limestone mine, lit only by helmet flashlights and the occasional shower of flinty sparks from a pickax connecting with rock. And then there's the comparative dazzle of the processing plant, bleached white by a settling of lime dust and snow.

Somehow these conflicting images are rendered equivalently bleak and scuzzy in Hlynur Pálmason's challenging, deeply weird and yet peculiarly compelling directorial debut, in which a tiny community of Danish workers, clustered around a factory in the middle of nowhere, feels so isolated and remote it could well be on the surface of the moon.” (From the Variety review)

With English subtitles and free entrance

The film will be introduced, in Greek, by film historian Ioanna Athanasatou, and she will also be open for discussion after the film.

Venue: The Lecture Hall of The Danish Institute, Herefondos 14A.

Our next screening will be on 9 May.
